HOUSE PASSED AID BILL FACES SENATE BATTLE

Economy Bloc To Demand One-Third of $1,500,000,000 Measure Be Cut Off.

MAY TRY EARMARKING

Administration Wins With Argument Fund Slash Would Cost 630,000 Jobs.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 2—The administration's $1,500,000,000 relief bill survived midnight house approval after a compromise quashed a crippling revolt, went to the senate today for another major battle.

Economy advocates in that chamber said they would renew demands to cut the fund by one-third. A senate bloc lost a similar attempt before the final 323 to 44 vote by which the bill passed.

There were prospects, too, that senate leaders would try to reinstate amendments to earmark one-third of the total for roads, dams and other special projects. These were rejected by house approval last week over the objections of administration leaders.

Agree on Changes

After week-end conferences, however, the President's lieutenants agreed on modifications, which were accepted last night by tired and hungry members who had been in session since noon.

Six roll calls, each requiring 15 minutes, prevented most members from leaving the chamber for dinner.

Majority Leader Rayburn, Democrat of Texas, had argued that to cut of the President's hands by the economizing amendments would force dismissal of more than 630,000 workers from works progress rolls. House members described the compromise as including:

1. An administration promise that privately much more than the $45,000,000 tentatively earmarked would be spent for flood control.

2. An agreement to revoke an all-or-nothing order which had held up use of $131,000,000, now in the public works administration's revolving fund for loans and grants to cities. This would mean completion of a large number of projects for which cities already have voted bond issues.

3. A promise to make relief funds available for building ponds and lakes to raise the water level of the southwest "dust bowl."

Wanted $150,000,000

Although the administration had offered to supply relief labor for construction of "farm-to-market" roads, Chairman Cartwright, Democrat of Oklahoma, of the house rules committee held out for setting aside $150,000,000 for road construction under contracts let by state highway departments.

His amendment, once tentatively approved, was rejected last night 205 to 187.

After the principal controversy was settled by rejection of the earmarking proposals, the house acted today on a number of other proposed amendments.

The salary of Harry L. Hopkins as works progress administrator, from which $2,000 had been tentatively cut, was restored to the current $10,000 a year by a vote of 252 to 94.

Fletcher Favored Slash in Funds

Brooke Fletcher, of Marion, fourth district congressman, was one of the 26 Ohio congressmen who voted for the relief bill when it came up for final passage in the house although he had previously voted for an amendment, which if it had passed would have reduced the appropriation to one billion dollars. Rep. Aleshire of the Seventh district, which included Union county, also voted for the final bill.

The Ohio delegation vote on the final bill follows:

Democrats for—Fletcher, Aleshire, Bicelow, Claypool, Crosser, Deen, Fleger, Harter, Hunter, Imhoff, Kirwan, Kniffin, McSweeney, Mesler, Polk and Thomas.

Republicans for—Jenkins and Vorys.

Democrats against—Lamneck.

The vote of Rep. Ashbrook of Johnsville, from the Seventeenth district of which Delaware county is a part, was not recorded according to The Associated Press. Others not recorded include Harlan, Kloeb, Sweeney and Secrest. The house vote on the bill was 323 for to 44 against.

In voting on the amendment to cut the appropriation to an even billion dollars Rep. Fletcher joined with six other members of the Ohio delegation.

On another amendment to earmark $150,000,000 for highway construction Rep. Aleshire and 14 other Ohioans voted for the earmarking. The amendment lost 299 to 198.

Move To Settle Water Rate Battle Here Fails

Council's Compromise Proposal for Cut Rejected by Company Official, Who Offers Increase in Water Allowance; Conference Held.

A short-lived effort to settle Marion's water rate controversy at a conference in the mayor's office this morning ended in a sharp exchange of words between Mayor Frederick C. Smith and Jerome Powers of New York City, vice president of the Marion Water Co.

When Mr. Powers, in answer to a question, said the water company would not consider a reduction in present rates, Mayor Smith declared there "is no use going any further," and said the city will "fight to the last ditch" in an effort to get a reduction through a decision of the state utilities commission.

The deadlock over terms of a possible settlement found the city demanding a rate reduction which the company refused to consider, and the company offering to give consumers 100 cubic feet more water each month in return for the present minimum bill.

The water rate controversy is now before the commission in the company's appeal from a 12½ per cent rate reduction proposed by council, and the commission's hearing of the case, begun last month, will be resumed June 16.

Considered Since Friday

Today's conference disclosed that the possibility of a compromise had been under consideration at least since last Friday.

Mr. Powers, in a conference at the mayor's office last Friday, said he felt the company would look favorably on a compromise plan that would entitle consumers to 400 cubic feet of water a month in return for the minimum bill of $1.50 a month in the place of the present 300 cubic feet allowed each month. It also was indicated the company might try to work out a summer sprinkling rate to encourage use of water.

These details of the Friday conference were reviewed today by Mayor Smith, who said he had insisted at that time that the company include at least a slight reduction of rates in its compromise plan.

He said members of city council were called into an informal session last night with E. W. Wood, certified public accountant employed by the city in its rate case, to determine what compromise council might be willing to consider. The meeting resulted in an agreement, Mayor Smith said, at this morning's conference, that council would not consider a settlement unless rates were reduced. Also, council agreed on a modified request for a reduction, asking for approximately a nine to 10 per cent reduction, instead of the 12½ per cent reduction it sought in its application to the utilities commission. Modification of the reduction was agreed on in view of the company's apparent willingness to increase the amount of water allowed under the minimum rate, the mayor explained.

Revenue Loss of $2,324

This morning's conference opened with the mayor asking Mr. Powers if the company still looked favorably on the proposal to increase the amount of water allowed each month in return for the minimum bill from 300 to 400 cubic feet. Mr. Powers answered in the affirmative.

That would reduce the company's annual revenue about $2,324, wouldn't it?" the mayor asked.

"Yes—$2,324, more of a reduction than the city deserves in view of the company's operating record," Mr. Powers answered.

The mayor then asked if the company is in position to consider a reduction in rates. Mr. Powers shook his head in the negative.

"By putting the rates where they are," the mayor remarked, "you have confiscated your own property and now you want to punish us for it by keeping the rates high."

Council met last night and agreed that nothing short of a reduction in rates would induce them to consider a settlement."

Mr. Powers said that if council and the mayor felt that way, there was no point to continuing the conference.

"You've called me here twice from New York to hear what you have to say and if you have nothing more than a reduction in rates, we might as well quit," Mr. Powers said.

"I certainly didn't invite you—the mayor replied.

"This compromise talk was not started at my request," Mr. Powers rejoined. "The company is willing to cooperate in any reasonable way, regardless of who started talking about compromise, but a rate reduction is out of the question."

To Keep Up Fight

"All right, the mayor asserted. "I'm going to run for mayor again and I'm going to ask for the same council. We're going to plan to have a rate fight with the company every two years until it becomes more reasonable to deal with. We've only asked for what we believe is fair."

"I'm sorry you feel that way—you're the one that's making the threats—we've heard your ultimatum and I guess there's nothing to do about it," Mr. Powers said.

By this time he had reached for his hat and started toward the door. Again he said he had come to Marion to consider what the city had to offer, not to make a compromise offer.

"What we have to offer is this," the mayor said, laying on the table the modified schedule of reduced rates agreed on last night by council. Mr. Powers looked at it briefly, shook his head and said

TWO INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

One of Smallest Lists of Cases in Years Acted on for May Term.

THREE CASES IGNORED

Indictments Returned Against Men Accused of Illegal Automobile Operation.

Report on action taken on one of the smallest lists of grand jury cases here in recent years was made to Judge H. S. Young in common pleas court at 1 p. m. today. Two indictments were returned and no action was taken in three cases.

The jury, which closed its session with its report today was the regular May court term jury. The last session was a special grand jury called in February to clear up a number of cases.

In direct contrast to the few cases on the present list the docket for some sessions in recent years has contained as high as 25 cases.

The two men indicted are Joe Burge, 42, of near Marion and Delbert Redd, 21, of 751½ North Main street. Both are accused of driving automobiles without the consent of the owners.

Burge is charged with taking the automobile of Raymond Brown of 210 Lake street. His arrest near Prospect followed a wild ride in which he was twice warned by police for careless driving. Redd is accused of taking a car owned by Keith Gebaugh of Morral. At the time of his arrest he admitted stealing eight cars over a period of several months, police said.

No action was taken in the cases of Harold Gast, 19, of 646 North Main street, and C. N. Drollsbaugh, 65, of Caledonia and Earl Earhart, 27, of 147½ North Main street. Gast was charged with second degree manslaughter in connection with the death of Howard D. Barrett in a traffic accident during a heavy rain storm last March. Drollsbaugh was accused of illegal voting in the last general election and Earhart with driving an automobile without the owner's consent.

Following the closed session yesterday the grand jury made the regular inspection of the county jail. The jury reported to Judge Young that they found the jail in a clean and sanitary condition, that proper discipline is maintained and that the rules of conduct as prescribed by the court are properly carried out by Sheriff Fred F. Miller.

REPUBLIC ACTS TO SPEED PRODUCTION

Promises To Avoid Bloodshed but Continue Shipment of Steel Products.

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 2—Militant labor forces and unyielding steel corporations, locked in a week-old strike across seven states, faced new tests of strength today as Republic Steel Corp. pushed ahead with plans to produce steel in spite of the strike.

Republic's high command promised not to ask idle men to wade through blood and scoffed at reports that lightened picket lines would impede shipment of manufactured steel.

It also disclosed that arms and munitions were stored in its plants for protection of property and workmen and went forward with extraordinary efforts to move food to beleaguered workers by airplane.

Ship Steel Daily

C. M. White, Republic vice president in charge of operations, claimed the corporation was shipping from 7,000 to 8,000 tons of steel each day and added, "It would be a tough job for any outside organizers to come between Republic and its men."

He said 21,081 of 36,071 Re-

Further increases in installment buying in Marion county are reflected in Recorder Paul Naher's report of chattel mortgages filed for May. Last month there were 967 as compared with 809 for the May of 1936 and only 723 for May of 1935.

A large part of the mortgages are for purchase of furniture and automobiles. April also saw an increase over the corresponding months of 1936 and 1935.

ROBERT GASSAWAY
Runner-up

JAMES MIDLAM
Champion

The winner and runner-up of Marion's 1937 marble tournament are shown "knuckling" down in the championship matches completed last Friday at the Central Junior high school field. James Midlam, 12, sixth grade pupil of Olney avenue school, won two consecutive games and the city championship over Robert Gassaway, 11, of Pearl Street school, in the deciding final game. Midlam, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Midlam of 413 West Columbia street, replaces Howard Cahill of Vernon Height school, who held the title last year. Gassaway, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gassaway of 225 Gurley avenue, is a fourth grade pupil. The finish in the deciding round between Midlam and Gassaway was exceptionally close, only three marbles being the margin of victory in the two final games.

Gasoline Blast Starts $7,000 Richwood Fire

Workman Has Narrow Escape as Lantern Ignites Fuel Drums; Explosion Halts $80,000 WPA Project.

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, O., June 2—Destruction of a tool house by an explosion of gasoline drums today at 2:20 a. m. temporarily halted work on Richwood's $80,000 WPA sewage disposal plant project.

Four or five 50-gallon drums of gasoline exploded almost simultaneously, spraying gasoline over the small temporary frame structure and causing damage estimated at between $6,000 and $7,000.

A lantern, carried by a helper, Francis Smith of Richwood, is believed to have ignited the gasoline.

Smith escaped from the blast uninjured, but how he was unable to say except that he ran from the building. He had gone into the tool house to draw gasoline for a motor which he was preparing to start to pump water from the excavation which is being made for the plant.

According to Mayor Sturgis Cheney, Smith said he thought gasoline must have seeped from one of the drums during the night. Smith's job has been to go to the site of the new plant about 2 a. m. and start the pumps to draw water from the excavation so that work could start immediately when the workmen arrived at 7.

In addition to the approximately 200 gallons of gasoline, the explosion destroyed all tools being used in connection with the preliminary work, including 3 metal casings, pipes and points, and 500 barrels of cement. All of the tools were government-owned.

Mayor Cheney said today he expected the explosion to delay the work about a week. About 40 men are employed on the project.

The plant site is at the south edge of Richwood and the tool house was erected outside any building district.

Outsider Wins Derby Before British Rulers

Midday Sun Quoted at 100 to 7, Leads Sandsprite and Le Grand Duc.

By The Associated Press

EPSOM DOWNS, June 2—Midday Sun, an outsider, owned by Mrs. C. B. Miller, today won the 158th derby before a crowd of between 250,000 and 500,000, including the king and queen. Mrs. F. Nagle's Sandsprite was second and the Aga Khan's Le Grand Duc third. Ridden by Mikes Beary, veteran English jockey, Midday Sun finished one and a half lengths in front of Sandsprite, a rank outsider. Le Grand Duc was another one and a half lengths back.

William Woodward's Perifox, only American-bred horse in the race and the last minute favorite, was fourth in the field of 20 colts and one filly.

The American-bred son of Gallant Fox just managed to beat Marcel Boyarsac's Goya 2nd out of fourth money in winning the purse of about $50,000. Midday Sun ran the distance in the comparatively slow time of 2:37 2-5.

MINISTER BRAVES CHURCH WRATH TO MARRY DUKE

Labor Preacher from Northern England To Perform Ceremony Following Civil Rites at Cande.

By The Associated Press

MONTS, France, June 2—A fighting north England parson, defying the opposition of the Church of England, will give the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield his religious blessing at their wedding tomorrow.

The middle aged "labor" preacher, Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, vicar of St. Paul's church, Darlington, Eng., will perform the religious ceremony after the civil ceremony is read in the chateau de Cande music room by Mayor Charles Mercier of Monts.

It came about this way:

Edward was called to the telephone last night after all hope for the desired religious consecration of his marriage had been given up.

"An unfamiliar voice said firmly: 'I am coming down to marry you.'

It was the small town vicar, Rev. Jardine, known for his work among the laboring class.

The preacher gave his former monarch no opportunity to protest. "I am coming," he insisted.

Today, without being met at the Tours railroad station, he taxied to Cande and bowed to the duke.

"I prefer to die rather than see my king married outside the church," proclaimed Rev. Jardine.

CITY SCHOOL BOARD REAPPOINTS HUDSON; PAY BOOSTS GRANTED

John Abel Quits Relief Post, Takes State Job

Will Head Newly Created Sales Tax Service; Frank Burns Named County Relief Director.

John Abel, relief director for Marion county since September of 1933, resigned today to accept a position with the state treasury department as a sales tax supervisor. The change is effective immediately.

County commissioners accepted the resignation and immediately named Frank S. Burns of 605 East Church street, who has been serving as relief auditor since September, 1933, to the position of relief director. He will retain his position as auditor.

The change in directors will bring no alteration of policy in handling relief cases, officials indicated. The rule will still be effective that only families without able bodied and employable males will be eligible for relief and that income must be below the subsistence level set up by commissioners.

Has Statewide Field

Mr. Abel was appointed yesterday to his new position by Clarence H. Knisely, state treasurer, and will begin his duties immediately. His work will be statewide, but his headquarters will be in Marion and none of his local connections or associations will be severed, he said.

The position, newly formed, will entail working out a program of education of the public to the value of the sales tax, teach the public to insist on receiving the stamps and to destroy them. Mr. Abel will also inspect businesses throughout the state to discover vendors who are illegally avoiding the tax. His work probably will involve considerable travel and also lecturing before interested groups, he said.

Since becoming relief director in September of 1933, when the federal government took charge of relief, Mr. Abel has handled thousands of cases and has watched the rolls climb from 3,200 persons at the beginning to a peak of 13,200 persons in June of 1935 and then drop back to the present low level of approximately 650 persons. He has watched the cost of direct relief rise from $8,000 a month at the outset to $50,000 at the peak, and then drop to the present $3,000 a month.

Native of Prospect

Mr. Abel was born in Prospect, moving to Marion with his parents in 1890. After receiving an education here, he worked with the Ohio Milling & Elevator Co., then went to the Marion Brewing Co. in 1903 as secretary and office manager. He became manager in 1913 and continued in that position until 1919 when prohibition arrived. From 1919 to 1922 he operated an auto battery station here, selling out to its present owners, Shoup & Walsh.

After leaving the battery business in 1922, Mr. Abel devoted his full time to the Fraternal Order of Eagles. He served as state president in 1927-28 and as a grand trustee in 1930 and 1931. Since 1912 he has been secretary of Buckeye Aerie No. 337 at Marion.

Mr. Burns first entered relief work in June of 1932 when the city was in charge of the cases and has been auditor of the county relief system since September, 1933. He is married and has three children.

He was born in Martins Ferry, O., living there until 1907 when he left to study engineering and to enter that work in several places in the country. Before coming to Marion in 1927, he was engineer for three years at Elkville, Ill., where he supervised opening up of strip pits for a mining company. His first work in Marion was as traveling research engineer with the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

ITALY BLOCKS SOVIET SHIPS

IL DUCE DETERMINED

Diplomats Point to Seriousness In Respect to International Law.

By The Associated Press

ROME, June 2—Italian warships established a virtual blockade of eastern Spain today to prevent Russian vessels from carrying war supplies to the Madrid-Valencia government.

A reinforced German battle fleet was underwood here to be cooperating with the Italian men of war in their determined move to stop the Soviet ships.

Grave views of Premier Mussolini's decision in effect to blockade Spanish government ports were taken in diplomatic quarters. There, experts pointed to the dictates of international law.

The stoppage of another power's merchantmen on the high seas, they said, is one of the most serious situations contemplated by the international code. In peacetime, they declared, a naval vessel may stop only a merchantman flying the same flag. Even in war time, they added, only a belligerent may halt foreign shipping.

SPAIN RECALLS ITS AMBASSADOR TO U. S.

Ordered to Valencia for Conference With Other Envoys on European Situation.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 2—The Spanish embassy said today that Ambassador Fernando de los Rios had been called to Valencia to consult with the loyalist government on the present situation in Europe.

Enrique Carlos de la Casa, who will become charge d'affaires, during the ambassador's absence, said the ambassador would sail on the steamship Queen Mary from New York June 9.

Embassy attaches said they had no definite knowledge of the discussions the loyalist government wished to have with the ambassador and did not know how long he would remain in Spain.

The embassy said that ambassadors of the Spanish loyalist government to other world powers also had been summoned to Valencia for a series of conferences with high officials of the regime.

De los Rios flew to New York today for a visit of a few hours which his colleagues here said will be devoted strictly to "personal business."

OFFICERS ELECTED

ASHLAND, O., June 2—The Ashland college board of trustees reelected Dr. W. I. Duker, of Goshen, Ind., its president yesterday. George Kerr of Dayton, O., was named board vice president and C. E. Garber of Ashland, secretary.

Superintendent Hired for Two More Years; Salary Raised from $5,000 to $5,600.

TEACHERS EMPLOYED

Also Get Pay Increase as Partial Restoration of Scale Before Depression Cuts.

The city board of education yesterday afternoon reappointed C. A. Hudson as superintendent of schools for a two-year period with a salary increase of from $5,000 a year to $5,600 and also put into effect a salary raise for teachers and principals which will bring them within 10 per cent of the peak salary schedules of 1930 and 1931.

Supt. Hudson, who came here in 1931 on a two-year contract, will begin his new term Aug. 31.

Restoration of teachers' and principals' salaries will boost the annual teaching payroll $11,115 from the present $232,260 to $243,375 for next year. The $600 increase for Mr. Hudson is additional.

The teachers' salary adjustments were made according to a schedule set up last year by the board. Virtually all elementary teachers and principals received $5 a month increase and virtually all high school teachers and principals $10 a month increase under the new order.

The board also reappointed 163 teachers, hired four new ones, reappointed 15 principals, approved resignations of nine teachers, granted leaves of absence to three, and rehired two who were on leave last year. The teaching staff as it now stands is three or four less than last year's, but the board will build the force up to full strength before the summer is ended. Mr. Hudson also indicated he will ask the board for three or four additional teachers beyond the number on the staff during the year just ended.

New Ranges of Salaries

The monthly salaries for teachers as set up yesterday will be within the following limits: elementary, $90 to $145; junior high school, $110 to $190; senior high school, $120 to $210; elementary teachers with four years training, $100 to $155; junior high school teachers with masters degrees, $120 to $200; senior high school teachers with masters degrees, $130 to $220.

The minimum training for elementary teachers is two years, for junior and senior high school it is four years. Teachers without the minimum requirements are subject to special adjustments. Principals are paid on a higher basis than teachers, although the raises effected yesterday are the same as the teachers received.

The salary adjustments were granted, the board said, to meet rising costs of living.

The only teachers and principals who did not share in the raises are those either beginning their careers and thus are on a probationary period during which no raises are provided, or those who have reached the maximum salary limits as provided in the schedule, or in those whose salaries were already 90 per cent of the peak.

Supt. Hudson said there are very few who did not share.

At 90 Per Cent of Peak

The raises, Supt. Hudson said, will boost virtually the entire teaching staff to a level 10 per cent below the peak level of 1930 and 1931.

The cuts in salary effected in 1932-33-34 amounted to 25 per cent. Mr. Hudson said. Salary restorations in part were voted by the board in January of 1936, which together with yesterday's raises bring salaries to 90 per cent of full salary.

The raises did not effect the administrative staff or janitorial employes. Mr. Hudson said, indicating the board will consider getting up similar advanced salary schedules for such employes shortly.

The present monthly payroll of teachers and principals is $25,806.76 and will be boosted $1,233 by the salary adjustments.

Principals Reemployed

The principals retired for the new year are: Grace Wingett, Anne Sutherland, Nellie Irey, Harriet Christian, Philomen Gregg, Alice Sneckenberger, Alice Dombaugh, Luella Scholl, Elma Howser, J. C. Emmons, Linda Williver, R. T. A. Garvin, J. E. Frew, W. E. Orcutt and K. H. Marshall.

No assignments to schools and classes have been made either for teachers or principals. This will be done the latter part of the summer.

Four new teachers were hired and two others were reappointed for a year after having taken leaves of absence to study last year. New teachers are Miss Ruth Ellen Mounts of 1101 East Center street, Miss Elizabeth Zachman of 722 South Prospect street, Miss Wilda Walker of Fremont and Mr. Williams Edwards of Columbus. Mr. Edwards has been substituting at Edison Junior high school the last few weeks for O. C. Ice, who resigned.

MAN CAUGHT, FREED IN LONG POLICE HUNT

Too Expensive To Bring Him Back Marion County Authorities Decide

After a search of several weeks by police of two states Elroy Hoffert for a short time a resident of Martel was arrested yesterday at Aberdeen S D—and released today He was released for the simple reason that Marion county does not feel it can spare the approximately $300 needed to extradite him from the west

Hoffert accused of the theft of a suit of clothes hat and a pair of shoes several weeks ago from the farm home of Ivan Downs near Martel was cleverly traced by Sheriff Fred Miller and his deputies from Martel to Bismarck N D

Shortly after Mr Downs reported the thef of clothes from his home the sheriffs office was notified by officials of the express company at Caledonia that a package containing the clothes had been shipped to Bismarck The sheriff obtained a complete description of the man who shipped the clothes a description of the package and wired Bismarck authorities to hold the clothes and arrest the man if he appeared to claim them

The clothes arrived at Bismarck last week and were held but Hoffert was not picked up until yesterday when he was found with a carnival at Aberdeen Sheriff Miller was notified of the arrest by Police Chief W J Cortz of Aberdeen

Decision not to extradicte Hoffert was made by Prosecuting Attorney Paul D Michel after conferences with other county officials The clothes were ordered returned to Mr Downs

Hoffert lived at Martel for only a short time preceding his alleged break in at the Downs home according to Deputy Sheriff Marion Hinklin

TAX DODGER PROBE WILL START SOON

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 2—Congressional leaders completed arrangements today for a speedy start—possibly by next week—of an inquiry into what President Roosevelt termed the "evil practices of tax dodging

Chairman Harrison Democrat of Mississippi of the senate finance committee said the men and women referred to in the President's message would be given an opportunity to testify if their names are disclosed

The preparations went forward even though the house still had to vote on a resolution to appoint six senate and six representatives to conduct the inquiry Its chief tasks saw little opposition

The senate adopted the resolution yesterday shortly after the President's recommendations for plugging gaps in the tax laws were read Once the house acts and the committee organizes it can begin hearings as soon as it subpoenas witnesses

Many congressmen expressed certainty the inquiry would bring out the names of wealthy taxpayers described in the President's message as having avoided or reduced tax payments by such devices as incorporating racing stables yachts and country estates

The inquiry will serve two purposes To focus public attention on the extent of all out tax evasion and to supply congress with information essential to the drafting of corrective legislation

Treasury officials have said they hope to collect more than $100 000 000 in taxes through prosecution and tightening of the tax laws

Waldo and Radnor Farm Youths To Get Degrees

... from the vicinity of ... be awarded the "state ... degree at the annual Future ... of America state convention ... May at Ohio State university.

... Donald Demorest, who ... in the Waldo High ... and son of Mr. and Mrs. ... Demorest of southeast of ... Bobby Thomas and ... of the Radnor school-... farmer degree is one ... between 45 and 50 boys ... year and is the highest ... ganization awards. Gold ... be presented the boys ... the son of D. H. ... principal of the Radnor ... Mrs. Thomas, and Jones ... of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Jones of near Radnor.

Demorest has taken the vocational agriculture course at the Waldo school for three years. In his freshman year as his animal husbandry project he chose sheep and poultry. A grade ewe which he already owned and a registered ewe and ram lamb which he purchased from a Waldo breeder, netted him a labor income of $15.80. Seventy-five purbred white Leghorn pullets, which were his poultry project and were purchased from his father, laid 1,072 dozens of eggs and produced a labor income of $117.50. A quarter acre of potatoes yielded 40 bushels.

In his sophomore year he continued the potato project and in his junior year he purchased certified white rural potatoes cooperatively through the school. Due to extreme dry weather last summer, the labor income was reduced to $24.45. He also continued his sheep project. The two ewes raised four lambs, sheared 22 pounds of wool and produced a labor income of $58.20. The year-old hens layed 384 dozens of eggs and netted a labor income of $87.41 and two veal calves which he raised brought him $19.17.

Kept Farm Accounts

As a supervised practice he carried farm accounts and learned which enterprise was producing the largest labor income and which needed improving.

In his junior year he continued the sheep project, purchasing an additional registered ewe lamb and a ram. The two aged ewes raised five lambs. The three ewes and ram sheared 40 pounds of wool which sold for $14.40. He also continued the poultry project and in four months 73 pure bred white Leghorn pullets produced $72.25 worth of eggs.

An addition was the raising of five acres of hybrid Iowa corn, purchased cooperatively through the school, the first hybrid product planned on the Demorest farm. In relation to the corn he purchased a purebred Duroc Jersey sow which he has entered in the Ton Litter association. He expects to continue the potato project by buying certified seed and treating it with a special preparation before it is planted.

As supervised projects he is carrying farm accounts and helping repair a mowing machine.

In his sophomore year Demorest exhibited at the Ashley and Waldo community institutes and received three first and three second awards for Woodburn corn. At the Waldo institute this year he received third prize for best longest ear of corn, second prize for sample of Trumble wheat, first prize for sample of clover seed, first prize for crib sample of corn and second prize for sample of eggs.

At the Marion county fair he won first and second with two ewe lambs, seconds with two market lambs, second with a Duroc Jersey gilt, second with 10-ear sample of corn, second and fifth with two pens of white Leghorn chickens.

To Study Farm Management

As a senior Demorest expects to take up farm management and soils and to prepare a farm map which will assist him and his father in planning crop rotations.

An interest in the ownership of the farm is the ambition which Demorest is striving to attain, he said recently. He is a pupil of B. H. Good, vocational agriculture instructor.

Thomas and Jones are pupils of Hobart S. Sockman. Thomas was secretary of the Radnor F. F. A. chapter last year and has been elected president for next year. He represented the chapter two years in district public speaking contests and ranks highest scholastically in his class. He won letters for baseball and basketball. During his first year in vocational agriculture work he raised baby chicks, a sow and litter, and six acres of corn. In the second year he raised baby chicks, a laying flock, baby chicks, turkeys, a sow and litter and a filly foal.

Jones, treasurer of the Radnor chapter last year, has been reelected for next year. He won the recent public speaking contest of the Radnor chapter. During his first year his projects were eight acres of corn, a sow and litter and two feeding steers. In his sophomore year his projects were two feeding steers, six acres of corn, 100 feeding lambs and a sow and litter. His junior year projects were 100 feeding lambs, four feeding calves, three sows and litters and six acres of corn.

TRAFFIC LAW CHANGE SOUGHT AT GALION

New Ordinance Would Repeal Law Setting 14 Years as Age Limit for Drivers.

Special to The Star

GALION, June 2—Several matters of business were transacted at a short meeting of city council Tuesday night.

Some discussion was given to an ordinance which had its first reading and which asked for a repeal of ordinances and sections of ordinances of the traffic code established in 1930 providing that no person under the age of 14 shall operate a motor vehicle in Galion and that no person shall permit a minor under 14 years to operate his car upon the streets of Galion. The repeal of this ordinance would make it possible to place the age limit lower than 14 years. This ordinance asking for the amendment was referred to the committee on rules and ordinances after it had its first reading.

An ordinance was passed asking the director of public service to advertise and received bids, and to enter into contract with the lowest bidder for the purchase of not to exceed 20,000 gallons of road oil for use of the street department.

A motion was made asking the city solicitor to draw up an ordinance making it impossible for any filling station to be erected between Union and Liberty streets on Harding Way west and Harding Way east.

KEEP TO "CENTER," RABBI URGES IN ADDRESS HERE

Democracy and Liberalism Only Salvation Against Communism and Fascism, Rotary Club Is Told.

Declaration that the middle course of liberalism and democracy is the only way of solution for the world's problems was voiced by Rabbi Louis Witt of Dayton, eminent Jewish clergyman, in a talk before the Marion Rotary club in its weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding yesterday.

Speaking on "A Right and a Left, But No Center," Rabbi Witt said that the situation as indicated by his subject represents the world's greatest peril today.

Opening his talk with a discourse on liberalism, the principle of economics and government which recognizes and safeguards human rights, he told how this path, "the center" representing the middle ground between the "left" and "right," has steadily grown narrower and more restricted until the present dangerous situation has resulted.

"Now," he said, "there is almost no center." He related how the masses, discontented over conditions and convinced that the concessions they sought could not be obtained under the old order, lost faith in the "center" and swung to the "left."

Source of Fear

"Communism, as we all know, is what is known as the 'left'," Rabbi Witt said. As an ideal it is a beautiful and splendid thing, and yet it creates fear. Why—what is wrong? The fear of its consequences is found in the methods its leaders take in gaining their ends—violence, revolution and bloodshed. They expect to accomplish their purpose through any form of violence.

"It has converted Russia into a vast experiment station with human beings as guinea pigs. Intended to be a dictatorship of the proletarian class, the masses are dominated by a few with a total loss of liberty. It proposes establishing a new order overnight.

"The 'right' is fascism—an expression which means anything but the way it is worded," Rabbi Witt said. He explained that there is remarkably little difference between the "left" and "right" or communism and fascism, as far as their results are concerned. Both take away human liberty, the precious possession that the center, or democracy and liberalism, seeks to preserve.

How Fascism Works

He told how fascism places dictatorship in the hands of the individual, as in Italy and Germany. It establishes and exacts obedience from the bottom up, authority from the top down. It destroys capital although claiming to defend it.

"Russia," he said, "is all 'left.' Germany and Italy all 'right.' In Spain, now torn by these two conflicting forces, any man who would dare say that he is not in sympathy with either of these viewpoints would be either jailed or executed if caught by either side. There is no place in Spain for liberals representing the 'center.'"

Warning to Americans

He advised people of America to view and study developments here so as to understand the danger which confronts this country.

"We're living in a very dangerous age," he warned, stating three points to be borne in mind for the country's safety and welfare.

"The first thing we must do," he said, "is to resist every attempt made to advance communism or fascism as the only way to establish human relationships. The whole movement of fascism is stupid because it is against the entire trend of history. Either fascism or communism if allowed to prevail will destroy the world. The only way of salvation is through the middle—liberalism and democracy.

"Second, we must build a wider and firmer economic foundation for our liberalism," Rabbi Witt said, in continuing with his three-point program for a wider and more powerful center. He said that those who have economic power and wealth should make more generous concessions to the masses.

Remedy for Radicalism

"Had this been done, we might not have Lewis and the CIO and his increasing power, which is growing from day to day," Rabbi Witt declared. He said that people provided with means for comfortably living and security will not become radicals or give cause for worry.

As his third point, Rabbi Witt said, "We need under every circumstance to resist every form and suggestion of violence, and by this I do not mean solely use of fists. This applies also to the process of change, the tempo."

The basis of all progress, he declared, "has been provided by 'growth and gradualism,' and not by sudden changes.

"We must resist every form of incitement to force and fury in human affairs. Our most precious gift is liberalism, or what we frequently call Americanism, and it is challenged now as never before," were among Rabbi Witt's concluding statements.

The speaker was brought to Marion through arrangements made by S. G. Rosenberg, a member of the Marion Rotary club, who gave a brief introductory talk.

Rabbi Witt is a member of the Dayton Rotary club and one of its board of directors. He is nationally known as a speaker and author. His insight into European economic and political conditions has been gained through long study as well as through travel in various European countries.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Habits of Health

ANNE OF MANY writes inquiring whether it is true as somebody told her that constipation in children is unimportant. She wants to know too if eventually the child will outgrow it.

Frankly I cannot agree to these ideas. In fact the contrary is the fact. Neglect of constipation in childhood is very likely to be the forerunner of the same undesirable habit in adult life.

No child should be permitted to suffer from this affliction. It is actually a condition of ... There is no excuse for the continuance of constipation, because it can always be prevented or overcome by following certain simple rules of hygiene.

Habit time for evacuation should be established at an early age. In fact many of the authorities believe this training should begin in infancy. The sooner the teaching is begun the easier it is to establish a habit which makes for good health.

Once a child has been educated in this matter he is equipped to combat and even to avoid many of the chronic disorders of later life. I speak of this because it is a well known fact that persistent constipation leads to chronic disturbances and undermining of health. When a child is troubled this way it is well to include certain foods in the diet of the youngster. Not only are these foods essential to proper growth and development but they will help prevent constipation. Provide in the daily diet fresh fruits and vegetables.

Do not permit hasty eating. Each morsel of food should be slowly and carefully chewed. Never allow bolting or hurried eating.

Adequate amounts of water should also be taken. Many children suffer from constipation only because they neglect to drink sufficient water. This, undoubtedly explains the failure to overcome the trouble even when there is given a diet rich in vitamins, fresh fruits and vegetables.

Of course there are other conditions which may bring about constipation. For example a child who has a small rectum or other abnormality at the vent will avoid the evacuation as long as possible because of the pain it causes. In such a case medical care should be provided. The trouble must be corrected.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland in care of this newspaper at its main office in this city.

WHAT TO DO

Too few people know WHAT TO DO when called upon to make funeral arrangements. The emotional strain resulting from the death of a member of the family, a relative or a friend makes wise and careful decision at that moment extremely difficult.

One way to lighten that burden is to have calmly prepared in advance some of the arrangements—which include the family burial plot. It is not morbid to do this merely is common sense.

In Ohio History

(From the J. H. Galbraith collection of Ohio histories, written for The Associated Press.)

TWO ANNIVERSARIES

Last month occurred the anniversaries of two important events which caused great excitement in Ohio—the 70th anniversary of the firing of the first gun of the Civil war, by the Confederates at Moultrie upon Fort Sumter on April 12, 1861, and the assassination of President Lincoln on April 14, 1865.

Before the surrender of Fort Sumter, 20,000 companies had tendered their services to Governor Dennison at Columbus and enrollments for the service went forward rapidly. The legislature, then in session, voted a million dollars for the defense of the Union.

On April 14, 1865, came celebrations of the Union victory. That same night Lincoln was assassinated and the gayety was replaced by mourning.

SOME OBSTACLES THAT HALTED NRA

many of the codes are working destruction for small business and entrenching monopoly."

Others in congress also expressed misgivings.

Makes Concessions

Although defending NRA from the Darrow board's criticism, Johnson sought to simplify some of the code structure. He proposed cutting down the great number of miscellaneous codes by merging all small industrial codes into a large grouping.

He also sought to take off of NRA the job of trying to enforce price provisions and similar arrangements in areas where large groups did not want them.

This move toward an anti-price fixing policy was hailed by NRA critics.

Throughout the controversies Johnson enriched official documents with pungent language and expressions.

Of critics who objected to his open "gold-fish bowl hearings," he said they wanted "a kippered herring in a dark can."

Other Difficulties

The Darrow board and congressmen were not the only critics of NRA and Johnson. There were reports of sharp differences of opinion between the NRA boss and its general counsel, Donald Richberg; between Johnson and Secretary of Labor Perkins.

After 15 months of running NRA, Johnson resigned. He had brought into existence more than 500 codes, touching nearly every phase of business.

With the colorful military man's retirement, NRA was reorganized, some of its earlier aims abandoned, its administration changed from a "one-man boss" to board control.

BUCYRUS, June 2—Reacting to the announcement by the Crawford county fair board last week that the county fair this year would start on Sunday, the First United Brethren church congregation has adopted a resolution opposing the action.

The belief that "it is detrimental to religion and public morals and not in harmony with the laws of Ohio" prompted the congregational action, according to an announcement by Rev. D. C. Holliger.

SHE DISCOVERED RIGHT MEDICINE FOR DIZZINESS

Suffered long time till she took Vendol and got relief from constipation, then some other things were also relieved.

MRS. MARY WAGNER

"I suffered a long time with dizziness, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath; spots dancing before my eyes, and some other troubles before I discovered all these things came from my constipated condition, so after taking a few bottles of Vendol, I got wonderful relief and now I want to advise everyone suffering the same way, to lose no time in taking this splendid medicine. It sure will give surprising results," says Mrs. Mary Wagner of 815 Summit St., Findlay, Ohio.

VENDOL contains 12 of Nature's Roots and Herbs combined with Mild Alkalines so it is like taking several different medicines at one time. That is why its ingredients act to relieve excess acidity in the stomach, others give the bowels a good cleansing, still others act as a diuretic to the kidneys, others stimulate the flow of liver bile, others relieve pain of rheumatism when caused by a sluggish bowel condition. Weak, miserable people get such a cleansing and invigorating action from Vendol they soon feel like different men and women.

All leading druggists sell Vendol and it is highly recommended here by Henney & Cooper, Druggists.—Adv.

Pounding out an 8 to 6 win over Salem Evangelical, the Lee Street Presbyterians accounted for their third victory in the Sunday School No. 1 league last night as they clung tenaciously to the league leadership. The Streeters have won three straight games, while Wesley with two victories, is the only other undefeated club in the loop.

Wesley edged the Trinity Baptists by a narrow one-point margin, 3 to 2, at the Marion Steam Shovel field and in the third league encounter, Epworth No. 1 took the measure of Forest Lawn, 10 to 5. The games last night were the third round of the regular schedule, while four of the league members have up to the present time been unable to play contests which were booked for the opening round.

The Lee Street sluggers hammered out 12 hits in their win over Salem, accounting for one triple, a double and 10 singles. Bob Kidd, the Streeters shortstop, was the hero of the ball game. He rapped out the three-bagger with the bases clogged in the fifth inning. The inning brought the heaviest scoring streak of the contest, with the victors collecting five runs.

Woody Walters' mound work featured Wesley's 3 to 2 win over Trinity Baptist on the Uncapher avenue field. Walters held the Baptists to three hits over the seven innings, striking out 14 batters and issuing five passes to first. Four of Wesley's five hits went for extra bases, one a triple and three doubles.

Shoving two runs in during the initial inning, the Epworth team led off with and held slight margin over the opposing Forest Lawn team on the Garfield park diamond. The Epworths clouted 13 hits to score 10 runs and were errorless in the field, while Forest Lawn was held to five tallies on nine singles. Four miscues were credited to the Forest Lawn team.

Tonight, No. 2 league Sunday School teams will be in action on the city diamonds. The games tonight were held over from Monday night of this week because of the Memorial day holiday.

STATE TITLES TO BE AT STAKE IN SHOOT BEGINNING FRIDAY

Marion Gun Club Members To Be Among Thousands Expected To Compete.

Marion trap gun enthusiasts will join thousands of other shooters from throughout the state in an invasion of Bucyrus, starting Friday, for the three-day competition which will bring about the selection of 1937 Ohio champions.

Members of the Marion Gun club were hosts to 55 target men from the city and this district in a registered "warm-up" event held at the club grounds here, Monday afternoon. Nearly all of Marion club members are planning to be on hand for at least a part of the state competition, and a large number of them intend to compete.

Thousands Expected

The three-day Ohio shoot is expected to attract thousands of contestants. The Ohio program is considered second only to the Grand American, held annually at Vandalia, O. At Toledo last year 21,600, including many from the host city, attended the 1936 edition of the state medal competition.

According to plans announced by the Bucyrus Gun club officials the shoot will open at 9 a. m. Friday, when Mayor George M. Birk of Bucyrus traps the first bird and welcomes the visiting shooters. Joe Heistand of Hillsboro, O., Grand American champ and the Springfield octogenarian, Charles "Sparrow" Young, will be among the outstanding contestants taking part.

Five regulation traps, two of them installed recently, are in readiness at the Bucyrus grounds, located two miles southwest of Bucyrus on the Wyandot road. Although the shoot will run on consecutive days, Friday through Sunday, the largest crowd is expected at the final session, Sunday the Ohio class champion and state singles champions will be determined.

On the opening day the doubles and handicap competition will be held. Heistand, who holds the title of the best doubles shooter, by virtue of hitting 96 out of 100 at the 1935 meet, is a favorite to repeat. In addition to the Amateur Trap-Shooting Associations" trophy and a cash prize, the doubles champ will receive a trophy. Similar awards will be presented to the winners of the various divisions.

Saturday Program

Saturday, the second day of the meet, will be occupied entirely by the state class championship at which time a zone five-man team contest will be held. Members of the zone team, representing northwestern Ohio are L. M. Bright of Prospect, Paul Wagner, J. Roy Jones and George Henderson of Lima, C. A. "Sparrow" Young, and Harry Smith of Springfield, Henry Eaton of Bryan and Roy Finnell of Toledo.

The junior championship, for shooters under 15 years, and the womens' championship will be held during the Sunday program. Although the Bucyrus club will be the host for the affair, R. E. Lorling, A. T. A. manager, will direct the affair. C. E. Nichols of Bellefontaine, president of the Ohio State association, will be in charge of all sessions. Officers of the state association in addition to Mr. Nichols are F. K. Sexauer of Chillicothe, vice president; and H. D. Vail of Mt. Gilead, secretary.

110 GOLFERS QUALIFY

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 2—Old man par took one of the worst beatings in his career, but he managed to whittle an entry list of 1,404 golfers—an all-time record for the United States Open championship—down to a field of 170 which will start play a week from tomorrow at the Oakland Hills club, Birmingham, Mich. Three of the Ryder cup candidates had 149's for their 36-hole tests, Craig Wood at New York and Byron Nelson and Ed Dudley at Philadelphia, while Jimmy Hines shot 146.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, June 2 — That sent you see taking bows out in Cleveland is Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees. . . . He predicted before the 1936 world's series that "Hubbell ain't invisible". . . You were right, Joe. . . . What's become of Tommy Bridges' fast one?

. . . Says Madison Square Garden's publicity department: "Betting on the bout shows that Braddock is the favorite, but there is plenty of Schmeling money in evidence." Haw! . . . Mickey Cochrane has received 500 telegrams and average 250 letters per day since he was beaned a week ago. Yesterday the Dodgers always were poison for Carl Hubbell with 23 decisions over the screwball king in their 30 meetings. . . . Incidentally, the Brooks have picked up a good looking young catcher in this Paul Chervinko from Columbus.

. . . The boys down at Washington swear this one is true: Jack Elder, the former Notre Dame football and track star, now is doing some work for the Catholic Youth organization. He was in Washington the other day and some one took him down to A. F. of L. headquarters for a courtesy call. Jack's escort introduced him as "Jack" Elder of the C. Y. O. The A. F. of L. reception committee thought the guy said C. I. O. and Jack had to get his hands up right quick.

. . . The Browns have grabbed Albert Coxon, 17-year-old strike out king of the Ohio valley. The kid whiffed 217 batters in 84 innings this last time out. . . . Ralph (Metcalfe, former Marquette sprint star, now coaching at Xavier University in New Orleans, will marry Gertrude Pemberton in Dallas a week from today. . . . It isn't true that bespectacled Chick Hafey is being groomed for Charlie Dressen's job at Cincinnati.

DIETRICH PITCHES NO-HIT CONTEST TO WIN FOR WHITE SOX

Indians Stage Eighth-Inning Rally To Defeat Tigers by 4-3 Score.

BY BILL BONI

The Chicago White Sox team today has at least one claim to distinction—on its roster are three of the four active American League pitchers credited with no-hit, no-run games. They are 36-year-old Ted Lyons, who turned the trick in 1926; Vernon Kennedy, who crashed the hurling hall of fame two seasons ago; and Bill Dietrich who joined the lineup yesterday.

The bespectacled, right-handed Dietrich, a Philadelphia and Washington cast-off claimed in mid-season last year by Dykes, shut out the Browns without a hit in one of yesterday's three big league games, 8-0. He gave two bases on balls and another man reached first on an error.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Sox and lifted them into third place past the idle Red Sox and the Detroit Tigers, who dropped another to the Cleveland Indians, by a 4-3 count.

The roster of pitchers who have chalked up no-hit shutouts is studded with the names of many of the most celebrated hurlers in the game—Chief Bender, Paul Dean, Wes Ferrell, Ed Walsh, "Smoky Joe" Wood, Christy Matthewson, Cy Young, Carl Hubbell, Hod Eller, Howard Ehmke, Amos Rusie and Charles "Hoss" Radbourne, among others.

Some of the best pitchers, past and present, have failed to scale this one peak. Outstanding in the group, a large one, are Dizzy Dean, Lefty Grove, Lefty Gomez, and Lon Warneke, of the modern crop, and Grover Cleveland Alexander, Rube Marquard, Rube Waddell, Tim Keefe, Dazzy Vance, Ed Plank, Herb Pennock, Mordecai Brown and Jack Chesbro, stars of seasons gone by.

Dietrich's effort missed being a perfect game—but, then, there hasn't been one since C. C. Robertson, also of the White Sox, tamed the Tigers, 2-0, on April 30, 1922. In all major league history there have been only six games in which not a batter reached first.

Dietrich's pitching performance over-shadowed the Indian's sweep of their series with Detroit, accomplished by a four-hit, three-run eighth-inning rally, as well as Hal Schumacher's 10-hit defeat of the Dodgers, 5-2, that gave the Giants the odd game in the interborough series.

THREE HOMERS WIN FOR MINNEAPOLIS

Special to The Star

CHICAGO, June 2—Toledo's Mud Hens, battling for the American Association leadership—much to the surprise of the experts—moved into Milwaukee today to take a crack at the wobbling Brewers' perfect record at home this season.

The second place Minneapolis Millers used the home run method yesterday in the only game of the day to whip St. Paul, 6 to 5, and crowd a half game closer to the Brewers. Trailing by three runs going into the ninth inning, the Millers snatched the decision when Carl Reynolds, Red Kress and Andy Cohen exploded homers, each with the bases empty.

GOLFERS FAIL TO QUALIFY

By The Associated Press

Complete failure of Ohio's amateur golfing contingent to capture even one of 12 qualifying berths for the National Open featured 36-hole trials at Cleveland and Cincinnati. Waldo Crowder of Canton, Canterbury and Ted Luther, Youngstown, 1935 Ohio open champion topped the six qualifiers in the northern Ohio event with 144 scores yesterday over the par 72 Mayfield course. The Cincinnati field was paced by two Louisville, Ky., professionals—Bill Kaiser with 141 and Jack Ryan with 142 over the par 72 Losantiville layout. Meanwhile a number of the nation's top-flight professionals gathered at Toledo for opening tomorrow of the Inverness invitational golf tournament.

Anti Climax

This is the week of the wedding the world has been waiting for—too long. It is bound to be an anti-climax in the great love story which has excited the imagination of all the romantic ones.

For I was not the lover's way in days of old to let himself be separated from his betrothed after forsaking home for her sweet sake. In the storybooks everything was done in hurry. One on the horse made up his mind to and let the horse and eloped with the gal.

There was no trouble with titles of royalty and allowances. For some reason such things didn't seem to be important. Nothing mattered except the devotion of the hero and heroine to each other. No one paid any attention to little obstacles and when a big one like separated—America—the Prince had it lots without even relaxing in his trust steel.

But then maybe it was the storybooks which were wrong. Heroes and heroines—princes and fair ladies—princesses and fair laddies—maybe all of them had to bother their pretty heads about mundane matters. Maybe they even had to wonder where the next month's rent was coming from and how much longer the grocer would wait. But it was nice not to have to worry with them wasn't it?

All things considered it's going to be a relief when the duke and the lady say the words Thursday. The suspense has been awful.

Air Commerce

Investigation of the Hindenburg disaster has ended. In about 10 days the official report will be compiled.

In the meantime one effect of the accident demands notice.

Instead of being discouraged as might be expected airship builders are displaying renewed belief. Germany is rushing another ship to completion. American interests are active again also.

Testimony in the investigation brought out the fact that Germany does not consider the airship a military weapon of any great importance due to development of airplanes capable of destroying it.

Perhaps that is the secret of the success of German ships including the Hindenburg. Germany has been working out the commercial problem of airship transportation. Every other nation which has experimented with airships has been trying to work out the military problem. Germany has succeeded the others have failed.

Even without the safe gas helium to lift its ships Germany has had conspicuous success. Given helium the Germans will continue to prove there are important commercial possibilities in airships.

A Grand Flag

It's good to be reminded again that the United States of America has a grand flag. It's good also to observe that so many homes still follow the custom of displaying the flag.

Red white and blue make an exceptionally combination. The stars and stripes make an attractive pattern. The flag is an artistically handsome symbol. Apart from the things it symbolizes.

The fact occasions for displaying it probably make it more appreciated when it is displayed. Certainly one of the most enjoyable things about Memorial day is the fact it brings so many flags to view.

Whose Pork Barrel?

Protestations of members of the house of representatives who stampeded for the pork barrel when the relief appropriation bill came up for action are directed in some strange places.

Postmaster General Farley the patronage dispenser for instance.

There isn't the slightest doubt that the intent behind the rebellion's effort to "earmark" approximately a third of the $1,500,000,000 relief appropriation which President Roosevelt wants was strictly political. Congressmen wanted to control some of the money which was going to be spent in their districts.

The alternative was to let Mr. Roosevelt control it. Thus he would get credit for spending it. On the other hand if he didn't spend it—if he held it up for some reason or other—they would get the blame. Congressmen aren't fools they aren't the only ones who like the taste of pork.

So when they learned that the postmaster general had been among the principal objectors to their stampede for the pork barrel and had been sending telegrams to the party bosses out in the country they didn't need to be told it was back to be fed they might run to the barrel at his expense. After all if every congressman and his brother could get their fingers in the pork the administration might have to take an unpopular attitude and cut down the supply.

President Draws No Distinction

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1937 by The Marion Star

WASHINGTON June 2—President Roosevelt again has come to grips with the courts. As in Germany where the executive tells the courts what rules to follow Mr. Roosevelt has introduced the novel theory that the courts of the United States must in effect draw no distinction between tax avoidance and tax evasion. He calls both unethical and contrary to the spirit of the law.

As contrasted with this view the supreme court of the United States by unanimous opinion as recently as January 7 1935 said:

"The legal right of a taxpayer to decrease the amount of what otherwise would be the amount of his taxes or altogether avoid them by means which the law permits cannot be doubted."

Even the great liberal Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes said in delivering an opinion on behalf of the supreme court of the United States:

"We do not see a way of evading decision when the law draws a line a case is on one side of it or the other. And if on the safe side it is none the worse legally that a part has availed himself to the full of what the law permits."

When an act is condemned as an evasion what is meant is that it is on the wrong side of the line indicated by the policy if not by the mere letter of the law.

Thus evasion is a criminal affair while avoidance is a proper legal device. Judge Learned Hand of the circuit court of appeals recently in a case used the interesting language on the same point:

"In accordance with the board of tax appeals and the taxpayer then a transaction otherwise within an exception [illegible] the tax law does not [illegible] him all [illegible] because it is actuated by a desire to avoid or if one chooses to evade taxation. Anyone may arrange his affairs that his taxes shall be as low as possible; he is not bound to choose that pattern which will best pay the treasury there is no even a patriotic duty to increase one's taxes."

In another instance (U. S. vs. Isham) the supreme court of the United States ruled:

"While his (the taxpayer's) operations deprive the government of the duties it might reasonably expect to receive it is not perceived that the practice is open to the charge of fraud. He seeks to decrease or avoid the payment of duties but they are not illegal. He has the legal right to stop up the evidences of payment and thus to avoid the tax."

President Hoover did give a broad extraordinary message to congress several years ago in which some were tax evasion and plainly open to prosecution under existing law and some were tax avoidance and perfectly done with proper legal advice.

If the President is about to hold that all tax avoidance is unethical then there are people rather close to the administration if not in it who will have to turn into the treasury a good deal of what might be called conscience money. The President gave anonymous examples. Here is one which can be defended as legal so far as the law is concerned but is probably contrary to the spirit of the law or the policy as Mr. Roosevelt outlines the matter in his message.

A certain taxpayer does a great deal of work of the same kind that other persons do for pay. This work while compensated for by the persons for whom the work is done is for charity and the checks are not made out to the person who does the work but are sent direct to the charities. This avoids the tax altogether.

Now if anybody ever in business were to get let us say $100,000 in income and attempt to give it all to charity the tax law says that only 15 per cent is allowed to deduction on charity from tax and that the other 85 per cent bears the normal Mr. Income tax rates.

Would the President call it tax evasion or tax avoidance or unethical for such a person who wants to give his whole income to charity if the benefactor in question writes to all the companies from which he receives salary or dividends and tells them to make out the checks directly to the charities?

Not Tax Evasion

This is probably being done on a wide scale. Until now it has seemed to be wholly legal and while subject to the description of tax avoidance it cannot be called tax evasion though some tax experts may differ on this too.

The point is that Mr. Roosevelt has selected a few instances and has given the impression that lawyers who advise their clients to avoid taxes by legal methods are doing something unpatriotic. If the laws of the United States were fair and equitable and if the people inside the administration were free from criticism in the subject of tax avoidance the message to congress might be regarded with much more validity and with much more respect than it will be in a world of real especially in the national capital where it is fully recognized that the charges of avoidance and evasion are in truth but a smokescreen to cover up the fact that the President has miscalculated the tax receipts and failed to balance the budget.

Some day if the facts can ever be established it probably will be discovered that all the tax evasions and avoidances put together wouldn't bring in enough revenue to balance the budget. This is because the official data on net income of persons in the so-called rich class which Mr. Roosevelt delights to attack is only a drop in the bucket of government deficits even if 100 per cent of such income were confiscated. But it makes better headlines to blame it on the rich. Some day when the fortunes of the rich have been confiscated and the purchasing power of wages has been curtailed it will be interesting to see what other scapegoats will be invented by the politicians.

Friendly Monarch

BY ARTHUR HAMILTON
International Illustrated News Writer

COPENHAGEN Denmark June 2—Current celebration of the 25th anniversary of the reign of Christian X King of Denmark calls attention to the unusual rule of this giant among monarchs and to the unique place held by the little kingdom in the international scene.

Coming as it did right after the much ballyhooed British coronation the silver jubilee of the reign of King Christian X was a rather quiet and ordinary affair in accord entirely in a manner quite in keeping with the somewhat stolid and conservative traditions of Danish affairs.

Since May 1912 when Christian succeeded his father Frederik VIII on the latter's death from a heart attack during a visit to Berlin Denmark has enjoyed uninterrupted peace and considerable prosperity.

King's Family Man

While thrones have been tottering in most of the world's monarchies Denmark has remained loyal to her ruler. On only one occasion was there a situation which threatened to depose the six foot six inch giant. In 1920 a movement got under way to set up a republic. The agitation was short lived however and Christian ironed out the situation and became more firmly established than ever on the throne.

One of the most important requisites of a monarch in Danish eyes is to have common sense. King Christian is eminently sensible and a matter-of-fact in his way of life and attitude. His is a familiar figure on the streets of Copenhagen where he rides horseback almost daily with none of the trappings or attendants traditional to royalty. He chats with the man on the street lives unostentatiously in one of the smaller of the royal dwellings and is essentially a family man.

His queen is the former Duchess of Mecklenburg and the crown prince is Frederik who will become Frederik IX when he ascends the throne.

Farm Industry Leads

Denmark is essentially an agricultural nation. Approximately three fourths of the Danish acres are devoted to agriculture. Dairy products are the main source of wealth of 500,000 odd farms in the nation. Eggs bacon and butter are the chief exports of Denmark and Great Britain and Germany the principal markets.

Some of the prosperity of Denmark may be lost however if Nazis carry through with their apparent plans to convert their northern neighbors. Their most vulnerable is the province of Schleswig which lies between Denmark and Germany and is one of the richest farming sections in Europe.

In handling her international problems of meeting such situations as that has might arise from Nazi intervention Denmark has loyal allies in Sweden Norway and Finland. These nations stand solidly behind a neutral policy and are solidly alike in diplomatic and political philosophy to many other countries.

The "Red Rider"

BY PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON June 2—People who are so dead set on having the federal government run everything would enjoy watching congress administer the affairs of the city of Washington.

The proof here can't vote. They can only scream. So far members of congress to make a sort of governmental guinea pig of the city is as safe as playing with fireless firecrackers. There was an exception. Representative Blanton of Texas who got the red rider passed.

Only within the last day or so did congress finally lift the red rider off the neck of the city. It was a provision tacked to an appropriation bill two years ago to prohibit school teachers teaching communism in the city schools. They had to sign a form each month avowing that they had left ship never a word about how 160,000,000 Russians are governed. Other wise they get no pay.

Russia a Blank

They couldn't even explain communism with safety. So they just gave it up. Officially as far as Washington school students are concerned Russia is just a blank space on the map like Antarctica. One biology teacher insists she was taking no risk of losing her pay check so told her pupils that blood was composed of white corpuscles and the other kind.

Blanton was defeated in the 1936 primaries and the unpopularity of the red rider was accepted as part of the reason. But there was a stout handful in the house opposed to repealing the act. They aimed to defeat communism by hiding it under a bushel.

To understand how congress can be doing these things it must be remembered that the District of Columbia is governed by congress and the President in a manner resembling a combination of governor state legislature mayor and town council.

Slaughter House

The same day the "red rider" finally was repealed the house listened to an extended debate between Mrs. Norton representative from New Jersey and Representative O'Connor of New York over whether Washington 240 miles from either state should have a slaughter house.

Mrs. Norton argued that slaughter house people have lost sight of the fine things for which Washington was intended but she had to give in and take the bill back to committee. Now Washington may not know if and whether it is to become the seat of a great industrial development or to continue to be known for its cherry trees and liberal legislation.

Today in Ohio History

BY H. C. HALL
Written for The Associated Press

Another Civil war battle in which leading roles were played by Ohioans—this time by generals U. S. Grant and Philip Sheridan—was the battle of Cold Harbor.

Following the battle Gen. Grant expressed regret that the federal troops had made that final assault. He said it was a needless loss of life with no compensating advantage.

Grant later stated that he had planned to take the offensive on the morning of June 3 if the attack on the previous day had succeeded and that day was to be spent in preparing for the next.

It's A Day of Dog Eat Dog

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON June 2—A wise official high up in the new order picked up his daily paper which told of the German Communist war in Spain (a dozen dead that day) and the C. I. O. steel war in Chicago (4 dead 88 injured the same day).

Behind those two developments he said lies the same trouble and the whole trouble with the world. Nowhere is stressing forbearance respect for order or law or respect for the rights of others. This seems to be the day of dog eat dog.

The reds bomb a German battleship and kill 23. The Germans bomb a red town and kill nineteen. A steel mill disregards the rights of workers to organize. The workers disregard the property rights of the steel mill trespass and start a fight.

Leadership which makes these things is strictly war leadership. And incidentally the two organizers who incited the steel strikers before their march were not listed among the dead or wounded. Hitler and Stalin were far away when the Spanish shooting started.

Are leaders going to hurl their forces of hate at each other until they acquire some common sense from sheer exhaustion of war or are there men big enough in the world to make forbearance and respect fashionable again.

This kind of thought has taken hold rapidly in high places here since the first sit down strike.

Paring

The longer house farm leaders look at the new farm program the less they like it. The unannounced idea now is to break the pending bill up into several bills as they are doing with the President's government reorganization program. They will then pass whatever portions they desire and forget the rest.

In this case it means they will probably pass the ever normal granary experiment for wheat and let production control commodity loans etc. go over until next session. They do not believe Mr. Roosevelt would object to this as the present system seems to be working fairly well.

At least the President has informed them time and again that he does not want any extra budgetary legislation passed this session and the omnibus farm bill would bulge the budget far beyond his bounds.

Background

The cables have not reported it but the hostess of the duke and Mrs. Warfield at that Monts Chateau is the former Fern Lombard of Grand Rapids Mich.

Senator Vandenberg recalls that her husband Charles Bedaux arrived in the Michigan furniture capital about a quarter of a century ago and was employed as an efficiency engineer in the furniture business. There Mr. Bedaux married Miss Lombard and took her back to France. The bride's father the late Charles Lombard was nationally known as Exalted Ruler of the Elks. He died several years ago.

Strategy

Congressional leaders were surprised when the President failed to bundle the farm bill and the wage and hour bill together in the same message or the same bill. He had planned to do it.

What caused him to change his mind was that the farm bill was overloaded with tariff and other suggestions which he did not care to espouse officially at all.

President O'Neal of the Farm Bureau Federation is telling congressmen that the new order can not provide hours and wages for labor without doing something for the farmer this session.

However no one is talking about doing anything for the great bulk of middle class people of the country who are neither farmers nor union laborers but who pay for the products of both.

Coercion

Farm legislators are still grumbling against the supreme court decision upholding the social security act. The reason for outlawing the AAA the court said it was coercion for the government to give one farmer benefit payments and not also give to his neighbor who failed to join the AAA.

In the Butler-Mumford tax case the court held it was no coercion for the government to allow states a 90 per cent rebate on federal unemployment insurance taxes if a state accepts the law.

Agriculture Committee Chairman Jones is saying: The supreme court in the social security decision passed the AAA at 45 miles an hour.

Side Line

Enterprising legislators have found a quiet little sideline which is netting some of them $5,000 to $6,000 a year in addition to their salaries. They have joined private speakers bureaus in New York which offer them to clubs and organizations as dinner speakers for fees which average around $300 per speech. This is far more productive than making speeches in congress and no one can find out how much money is being made there by. Income tax returns are secret. If a constituent becomes inquisitive he is generally informed that the speech needed only express.

Irrepressible Milton Berle

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK June 2—No entertainer has "more" successfully withstood the collective Broadway boo than the young comedian Milton Berle. Because of his frenzied manner he has from his beginning been a thorn in the critics' side. Others like him have vanquished by scorn but not Berle.

He carries on with impudent grin—rising from coffee and cakes to a several thousand a week performer. In many ways he expresses the same brashness that once characterized the now sedate and well beloved George M. Cohan when he was yowling his Yankee Doodle stuff.

Berle's career might well be labeled The Rise of a Smart Aleck. Yet those who know him say it was only a part of his act. Away from the footlights he is unusually shy and despite his feigned sophistication a typical Mama's boy. She is his constant companion.

He went into the old Palace as a fill in act and wound up a headliner held over for many weeks. He then moved them in cabarets landed a top bracket job on the radio and later was taken to Hollywood to be featured in films and at 30 is rich enough to rest on his oars.

* * *

There is gaiety about these persons open until 4 a. m. hat and gown shops upstairs over Broadway and around the side street corners in the 40s. Each is staffed with a Peter Arno type of prop let known as Modo and a bright girl assistant or so. Most of the customers are shop and cabaret girls who drop in between or after shows usually with a boy friend to pick up a few bargains. The moment the girls and their beaux enter flattery is turned on faucet like. The big play is to the boy friend — and he is given the works often so expertly he finds himself on the business end of a half a dozen purchases when he only intended to look around.

Few virtues are more appealing than frankness. At a dinner to several intimates the other night the host whose spread was sumptuous had a jar of buckshot sized Beluga caviar at his palace side which he alone dipped into. Nor did he offer to share it. As he made his third canape he explained. "This is my one extravagance and I never share it. Only one in a thousand has a true taste for caviar anyway. Somehow we all warm to such forth frankness even though it is a violent departure from ordinary courtesy.

From Fred Niblo your sympathetic comment on William Faversham with his chin up and the many other Fayershams going over the lost boy lions with heads high gained a picture that few of the younger world will understand. It was "fine." Every day at the Lambs and Players there appear vanquished valiants of the stage who have been unable as have so many to indulge in the boonties of Hollywood. Most of them are living in far away rooming houses several flights up and all the way back but here is never a whimper. They give the impression that so far as they are concerned everything is on the up and up.

Charles Phelps Cushing one of the Kansas City Star alumni is probably dean of New York free lancers. For a quarter century he has been prowling about the metropolis with camera and note pad—catching unusual views and picking up story stories of interest. A pipe smoking bachelor he has spent most of his time in the city in a West Side apartment. His own boss and doing only the things he really wanted to do he expresses the true spirit of the free lance.

When modesty was modestly I can think of no small one character trait has ever touched Rose Wilder Lane's description of the sweet and reserved woman who helps herself as straight as a ramrod and always buttoned her gloves in place. To her intimates she suffered HAD never appeared in public but fully dressed.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, June 3

According to the lunar transits this should be a particularly live and enterprising day, with many old matters calling for an energetic stirring up to make way for new projects and improvements. The forces and constructive faculties will be under high stimuli attracting the support and preferment of important personages or big business interests.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of much activity and initiative in the launching of new propositions, with the energies under high stimulus for important projects of a practical and constructive nature. These may attract the cooperation of big business or elderly persons, who may be approached with confidence.

A child born on this day may be constructive, aggressive, enterprising and adventurous, gaining the support and confidence of important or elderly persons or long established institutions, who find willing ear to worthy propositions.

STOCKS START TO RISE AGAIN

Steels and Utilities in Demand as War Scare Fades in Europe

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK June 3—A calmer view of the Spanish crisis put traders in a buying mood today and the stock market went forward fractions to a point or so.

That one wing of Wall Street remained hesitant was shown by the way some issues backed away from their tops after the morning rise.

There was a fair call for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Chrysler, Goodyear, Anaconda, Westinghouse, General Electric and Baltimore & Ohio.

Shares which felt the effects of selling were National Steel, Inland Steel and General Motors.

Wheat was down and corn mixed. Bonds were steady.

Financial circles with foreign connections said private advices from abroad reflected the belief no great danger of European war is likely as the result of the latest Spanish crisis.

Some felt that German military and economic leaders in Nazi councils probably, attempt to lay a restraining hand on those in a warlike mood. Basis for this belief it was pointed out is the reported shortage of some important raw materials and dissatisfaction with the progress of German armaments.

As trading got under way Wall Street had its hopes for the consumers goods field buttressed by the National Dry Goods Association estimate that department store retail credit sales this year will reach $3,000,000,000 or about the 1929 level.

The near-term behavior of carrier shares will be studied experts said in the light of the final compilation of April net operating income issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is held that 50 basis points a gain of 15.2 per cent over the like month last year.
